

SECRETARY GARFIELD MAY BE WITH STRAUSS

James R. Garfield, Secretary of the Interior, had a national reputation as a "trust buster" when he was head of the Bureau of Corporations of the Department of Commerce and Labor. He was born in Ohio in 1865 and is a son of the late President.

THREE MEMBERS OF CABINET MAY COME HERE

According to the San Francisco Chronicle, not only Secretary Straus of the Department of Commerce and Labor, but Secretary of the Navy Metcalf and Secretary of the Interior Garfield, are coming to Honolulu. It is stated that all will come together, and that the main purpose of their visit is a thorough investigation of immigration matters and the Japanese question.

The Chronicle's article is in part as follows:

"The three members of the Cabinet who are coming to the Pacific Coast this month will conduct a thorough investigation of the Japanese difficulties which have arisen in San Francisco and will journey to Honolulu in an attempt to solve the problem of Japanese immigration.

"While various purposes have been assigned to the westward trip of these three members of the Cabinet the real cause of their coming is the misunderstanding that has developed between Japan and the Government at Washington following the agitation of the school question here, and the latter incidents which have been magnified to widen the breach between the two nations fronting on the Pacific. A careful investigation of the facts has been ordered by the President, and it is to carry out this order that the three Secretaries are coming here.

"While their presence here will be taken advantage of to further the plans for a peace conference, the probable formation of a California branch of the National Civic Federation for the settlement of future labor disputes, the real purpose of the visit of the Secretaries is wholly concerned with the difficulties with Japan.

"Secretary Straus has written a letter to Ildor Jacobs, his cousin, to the effect that he will attend the meetings in connection with the organization of a branch of the Civic Federation, but that he cannot make any other engagements for the time he is to be here, as the business on which he is coming 'is very important.'

"Straus will come West by way of Canada to enable him to see the operation of the immigration laws on the Canadian frontier, and he will visit the northern ports where Japanese are accustomed to arrive before coming to San Francisco. He will reach this city on July 23d, and will sail for Honolulu, probably accompanied by Secretaries Metcalf and Garfield, at 1 o'clock on the afternoon of July 25th.

"While here a searching investigation will be made of certain irregularities in the matter of the entry of Japanese and Chinese at this port. It has been reported at Washington that Oriental immigrants are held up by a ring in the immigration service, and that, in many cases, a charge of $20 has been exacted from incoming Orientals before they are allowed to land.

"The records of the quarantine stations here and at Honolulu will be carefully compared in the matter of the exclusion of Japanese suffering from the eye disease known as trachoma.

"The secretaries will investigate the assault on a Japanese restaurant and the school matter will be further probed.

"At Honolulu, however, the Cabinet party expects to find the most important matter in connection with their investigation, word having come to them that the importation of contract oriental labor has been carried on by certain interests on the islands without interruption for several years, and that growing out of this abuse Honolulu has been made a half-way house for laborers coming to San Francisco, who would have been excluded had they come directly across the Pacific. It is reported that there is rich material for investigation in this matter, which has been systematically withheld from Washington for several years.

"The real purpose of the visit of the Secretaries to the Coast had been carefully concealed under various pretexts, such as the hearing in the Heien Hetchy matter and the proposed peace conference, lest the publication of the fact that the Japanese question was being thoroughly investigated might cause further friction between the two powers."

SECRETARY OF NAVY- WHO MAY COME HERE

VICTOR H. METCALFE

Victor Howard Metcalf, of Oakland, Cal., Secretary of the Navy, was born in Utica, N. Y., October 10, 1853; graduated from the Utica Free Academy, also from Russell's Military Academy, New Haven, Conn., and then entered the class of 1876 Yale; during the college vacations he studied law in the office of Senator Francis Kernan, in the offices of Horatio and John F. Seymour, Utica, N. Y.; left the naval department of Yale in his junior year, and entered the Yale Law School, graduating therefrom in 1876; practiced law in Utica, N. Y., for two years, and then moved to California, locating in Oakland; was elected to the Fifty-sixth, Fifty-seventh, and Fifty-eighth Congresses; was appointed Secretary of Commerce and Labor July 1, 1904, and Secretary of the Navy December 17, 1906.

LEPERS' SALVATION

PINKHAM VIGOROUSLY OPPOSES
HAVING THE SALVATION ARMY
ADDED TO SETTLEMENT.

The Salvation Army has no place at the Leper Settlement. President Pinkham of the Board of Health, has very positive views on this score. The story published in the San Francisco Chronicle and the statements made by Col. French relative to the possibility of sending some Salvation Army forces there to "sacrifice" themselves called forth some pertinent comment from Pinkham today.

"It is all nonsense," declared Pinkham "for anybody to represent the conditions as such at the Settlement, that anybody going there 'sacrifices' themselves. Nothing of the sort prevails. Jack McVeigh, the superintendent goes to the settlement and stays there weeks at a time, the Sisters are there constantly, so are others, but you do not hear any of them complaining about sacrificing themselves by being at the settlement with the lepers. This talk about 'sacrificing' themselves is largely made by people who want to glorify themselves by representing that they are doing something that requires a vast surrender on their part.

"So far as the Salvation Army sending anybody there is concerned, I will say that it would be simply a case of misdirected energy. There is no need for the Salvation Army to send people to the settlement. There are now four churches and an organization of the Y. M. C. A. at the settlement, so for that feature of the case ample provision is made. Nor is there any necessity for the Salvation Army sending people to care for the lepers or anything of that sort.

"This thing of misrepresenting conditions at the settlement is all wrong. That was the reason I permitted Jack London to visit the place, so that a correct idea could be gained of the conditions. As a matter of fact the people there have more to do than the average person outside does. It is not my desire to assail the Salvation Army or its general purposes or methods. But there is no reason for the organization sending anybody to the settlement."

KILEY IS STILL MAKING A TRY

AFTER SIGNATURES TO GET A
NEW LICENSE FOR THE NOTO-RIOUS "FAVORITE."

Although there is not likely to be much doing with the liquor license commission before next week, the office of the treasurer has been pretty busy today. Fred Kiley who has made two unsuccessful efforts to secure a restaurant or a saloon license for his notorious joint, the Favorite Grotto, at the corner of Bethel and Hotel streets, was at the treasurer's office this morning securing blanks. He was about as busy about the building trying to secure blanks, as he was some years ago hiding the revolver that sailor Genau used in killing Ulysses Harris in the saloon where Kiley was employed.

Kiley's object in securing these blanks is to try and have the Japanese property holders in his neighborhood sign his application the second—for a license. The joint that Kiley conducted at the Favorite was known to the authorities for a long time as an evil resort. The exposure of the place by J. Oswald Luttitt in a protest against the original license, opened the eyes of the community generally, to what the authorities had been aware of for many months before.

TRY LONG WIRELESS

INTERESTING TEST BEING MADE
THIS AFTERNOON AT THE LO-CAL NAVAL STATION.

An attempt will be made at the United States Naval Station here this afternoon, beginning at 3 o'clock, to break up records in the Pacific ocean for wireless telegraphy.

At 3 o'clock, under direction of Lieutenant Cushman, an operator will take up his position in the wireless room beneath the great pole in the station grounds and try to pick up the United States Army transport Sherman, Captain Bruguiere, which sailed from San Francisco on July 5 and which will be out seven days flat by tomorrow noon.

It may appear that the Naval Station people are preparing too early to pick up the transport, but the Sherman has been on the drydock up on the Coast and is in condition to make unusually good speed coming down and she may arrive here tomorrow any time after noon instead of early Saturday morning as originally expected.

The wireless operator at Barber's Point also is alert and may catch a message from the Sherman before any word is received at the Naval Station. The Naval Station has heretofore found that the mountains greatly interfere with communicating with vessels coming from the Coast. Recently a transport was talked to 150 miles off, going south, while the same vessel, approaching from the other side of the island was not reached until she was within 50 miles. The Barber's Point station has the advantage of the big break in the mountains across the island.

Experiments on the Coast with the Sherman's $12,000 wireless apparatus resulted in her communicating at a distance of 700 miles, so this afternoon she may hold conversation with Oahu.

SICK MAN BOUND IN IRONS ON SHIP

Aboard the S. S. Massachusetts is a trachoma suspect who, up to this morning, was in irons. It seems that the ship had permission from the health authorities to keep the man confined, but no permission for brutal shackling was given and United States District Attorney Breckons has the matter in hand to make it warm for those responsible unless it can be shown that the prisoner was criminally inclined.
